4.0 Code of Conduct

Relational Management - Restorative Practice

Trinity Lutheran College has a culture based on the Christian gospel of quality relationships where relationships are likely to achieve greater depth and connection. This is achieved through using the process of Restorative Practice. This is a proactive approach which allows the development of healthy relationships across the school community which is critical for improved student learning outcomes. It is a relational philosophy where the key to relationships is engagement and connectedness.

Here at Trinity our basic concern has to be children's engagement with their college hence, we need to work differently with young people to build their resilience and their sense of belonging.

We have a highly supportive, safe, welcoming and caring environment with a goal to engage students at a much higher level of commitment, inclusiveness and connectedness. We aim to maximise the level of student engagement and well-being within an innovative and stimulating community environment. We have a college culture that actually improves all aspects of school functioning so that staff members are empowered to teach students, and young people are empowered to learn.

Student Wellbeing and Pastoral Care

A positive learning environment in which young people can feel connected is the best environment for academic success. A whole college approach to the development of healthy, positive relationships involves using multiple strategies that reflect the college's Christian values in a community of care. By equipping each student with the foundations for academic achievement and, social emotional wellbeing, students will transition successfully from college to work, further education and adult life.

Student Code of Conduct

Trinity seeks to provide a safe, secure, supportive and encouraging learning environment. All members of the college community have a responsibility to treat each other with care, compassion, dignity and respect; act honestly and fairly; do their best; and value and respect the college environment.

Student Relational Management – Ashmore Road Campus

Trinity Lutheran College operates its student relational management on the teaching of law and gospel. Central to this Christian teaching is the worth of each person as one who has been created by God and saved through Jesus Christ. Relational Management develops this perspective by assisting all students to develop self-discipline and positive behaviours in a caring, supportive environment. We believe that our approach to student behaviour management should primarily be an educative one. All matters of student relational management are carried out in the context of forgiveness, which allows all members of the college community to restore relationships.

Level 1: Teacher-Student level (infrequent and low level)

A positive college climate, in which young people feel safe and connected, is the best environment for learning. A key requirement for effective schooling is the building of relationships. It is essential that we seek to enhance relationships among students, and between students, teachers and parents, so as to nurture our sense of community at the college. Communication at Level 1 is through email or a phone call to parents if necessary.

Level 2: Teacher-Student-Parent level (Repeated low level)

Good communication is essential in building relationships. In both middle and senior schools teachers need to be in close contact with parents and work in partnership with them for the benefit of the students. Communication with the parent/s is through a phone call and/or interview.

Level 3: Teacher-Student-Parent-Head of Year and/or Head of Learning (Infrequent medium level or repeated low level)

Head of Year and/or Head of Learning may be called on to assist with relational management issues. With parental assistance, support will be focused on supporting the student to acknowledge actions, accept responsibility and commit to college expectations to move forward. Communication with parent is by interview.

Level 4: Teacher-Student-Parent-Head of Campus (repeated medium level)

The Head of Campus, in consultation with key stakeholders, administers a non-negotiated consequence with a view to support the student to acknowledge actions, accept responsibility and commit to college expectations to move forward. Communication to parent is by interview.

Level 5: (High)

The Principal, in consultation with key stakeholders, administers a suspension (internal or external). A re-entry meeting with the student and/or parents is required before the student can return to class. Communication to parent is by interview.

Level 6 (High) Withdrawal of enrolment

Student Restorative Practice - Cotlew Street Campus

As Junior Years teachers we understand the following concept:

The PROBLEM is the problem

The PERSON is not the problem.

We want our relational management processes to focus on fixing the problem and restoring relationships in processes which are Fair, Safe and Respectful.

Restorative Practice in schools has been developed from the Restorative Justice (as opposed to Retributive Justice) approach trialled in the youth justice system.

Restorative Enquiry, Mediation, Small Impromptu Conferences, Circle or Classroom Conferences and No Blame Conferences can be used most effectively in dealing with classroom and playground incidents or when ongoing teasing, exclusion and put downs have constituted 'bullying' and have caused considerable emotional stress to one or a number of children.

Follow up and monitoring of the group by teachers or assistants on duty, special education staff, deputy and head continues after the staff has developed a resolution to the shared problem and individuals have identified how they are going to contribute to "fixing" the shared concern and restoring the relationship.

Being enrolled at the college implies acceptance of this Student Code of Conduct.

Parents and students who become part of the Trinity Lutheran College community must familiarise themselves with all the information available in the Parent/Student Handbook (available on the college Parent Portal) as it relates to the day-to-day issues of the college. This information, along with the detailed information set out in this International Student Handbook, will ensure that parents and students are well informed.

6.0 CURRICULUM

6.1 International Baccalaureate – Primary

To further enhance our comprehensive approach to teaching and learning, Trinity has introduced this uniquely international program which focuses on the development of the whole child as a participant in a global community. At the heart of the PYP is a commitment to structured inquiry as a powerful vehicle for learning. Children explore knowledge in the broadest sense of the word using key concept questions. These form the basis for enriched learning through planned units of inquiry.

These frameworks lay the foundation on which curriculum is planned, implemented, assessed and reported. Each contributes to the development of lifelong learners who are:

Inquirers	Risk takers	Caring	Thinkers	Knowledgeable
Open minded	Communicators	Principle	Balanced	Reflective

We aim to nurture lifelong learning qualities in our students within the context of a comprehensive and balanced curriculum, as they learn in a community guided by the core values of love, justice, compassion, forgiveness, patience and service.

Trinity Lutheran College – Primary - curriculum and courses of study are accredited at state, national and/or international level. They serve to broaden and enrich the lives of students through participation in a wide range of learning opportunities which enhance personal, social, academic and physical development, and foster important life skills of self-discipline, cooperation, organisation and leadership. The classroom teachers are supported by specialist teachers in the areas of Music, ICT, Health and Physical Education, Japanese, Art and Library.

Literacy and Numeracy – A Priority

A central learning priority is the development of student literacy and numeracy. Foundational knowledge and skill development in these areas takes place within the broader context of the Key Learning Areas (KLAs).

Nine Areas of Essential Learning

Eight nationally agreed Key Learning Areas and Christian Studies form the core of essential learning for the curriculum in the Junior Years. Curriculum frameworks accredited by the Queensland Studies Authority underpin the formal curriculum and provide coherence and continuity to the learning program.

The nine key learning areas are: Christian Studies, The Arts , Health & Physical Education (HPE), English, Mathematics, Studies of Society & Environment (SOSE), Science , Technology, LOTE (Languages other than English) and Japanese.

6.2 Junior Years (Years 1 to 5) 8.40 am - 3.00 pm

The experiences, knowledge, interests and needs that young children bring to school are important starting points for learning at this stage. The Queensland Early Years Curriculum Guidelines provide teachers with a framework for developing and planning curriculum in the following Early Learning Areas:

- Social and Personal Learning
- Health and Physical Learning
- Language Learning and Communication
- Early Mathematical Understandings
- Active Learning Processes

The integrated learning experiences in Year 1 lay the foundations for later learning in the nine Key Learning Areas.

6.3 Middle Years (Years 6 to 9) 8.35 am - 3.15 pm

Years 6 and 7

There will be many aspects of Years 6 and 7 that you will be familiar with e.g., having one main teacher for most of your core subjects. You will have an inter-disciplinary inquiry unit of work each term as well as the opportunity to study a different experience subject each semester. There is a significant focus on the explicit teaching of literacy and numeracy skills at this level. You will also have responsibility for your own classroom, just as you did in the Junior Years.

Year 7 is the second year of middle schooling at Trinity and the first year of high school. We have a well-developed program which addresses the needs of Year 7 students very well. Our emphasis is on students having the opportunity to engage with more specialised subject teachers in Year 7 than would normally be the case in a traditional Prep to Year 7 primary school.

The teachers in the Middle Years strive to provide a safe and supportive learning environment that encourages each student to reach his or her potential. There is a strong emphasis on the well-being of every student in Middle Years. Along with a key focus on academic achievement for every student, the Middle Years recognises the importance of promoting resilience and well-being during these early adolescent years.

Information Technology is also integrated. The core teachers seek to get to know the students and their families well and are available to guide and support the students. One of the two core teachers is assigned the role of Care Group teacher and is the first point of contact for parents. Christian Studies, as part of the core academic program is contemporary, stimulating, challenging and relevant to Australian students. It is inclusive of students with a wide range of religious backgrounds, needs and skills.

In Year 9, students will have a larger number of specialist teachers in the key learning areas of Mathematics, Science, English and Humanities. One of the teachers will be the student's Pastoral Care teacher and the first point of contact for Year 9 parents.

Trinity Lutheran College Performing Arts: Overview

Trinity is renowned for its outstanding performing arts program, which is dedicated to developing and inspiring our students passion for the arts.

The co-curricular program follows a 4-year rotating performance program from Prep to Year 12. It is devoted to excellence across all artistic genres; acting, choral, dance and instrumental for all levels from beginner to advanced. The weekly co-curricular program is offered free of charge for all students enrolled at the college, as students come together in their shared passion and enjoyment for the performing arts. The college proudly facilitates 40 ensemble rehearsals across both campuses every week across a variety of choirs, string ensembles, concert bands, rock & jazz bands, dance and drama ensembles. The College also offers private and group lesson tuition in dance, drama, voice and instrumental conducted by expert tutors in their field.

The program aims to teach the students; to effectively work together, to develop and strengthen their artistic skills, to encourage participation, to build self-confidence and resilience. The program provides an outlet for creativity and self-expression and encourages students to give back to the performing arts community by helping younger and less experienced performers along their journey. The program also provides opportunities to extend those students pursuing a career in the arts via arts excellence programs, workshops with industry professionals, backstage tours and concert experiences.

There are numerous benefits to children participating in music, dance, or drama; enhanced teamwork skills and discipline, "doing" instead of observing, learning to think creatively, to problem solve imaginatively and to express themselves in a unique manner. It also enhances goal setting, working to deadlines, communication skills, enhanced performance skills and experience, and increased self-esteem.

The program offers all students varied opportunities throughout the year to develop their performance skills and showcase their talents in a range of exciting performance opportunities. These include large scale performances and musicals staged at professional venues with casts in excess of 350 students; interstate tours; dramatic plays; dance, music and drama showcase concerts, eisteddfod performances and public performances throughout the community.

Choral Program

Trinity's choral program in the junior years lays the foundation of ensemble work and helps students develop their vocal technique and performance skills, encourages participation and team work and most importantly, gives them an opportunity to have fun through performing. There are many opportunities for students to put these skills to use in their performances throughout the year. The middle and senior choral program not only builds on the junior foundation of vocal technique but it also develops their ability to sing in harmony in a variety of choral groups for non-auditioned choirs through to highly advanced chamber choirs singing in 2, 3 & 4 part harmony. From beginner to advanced, there is a choir ensemble for everyone!

All choirs regularly perform at a range of College functions including Anzac Day, Grandparent's Day, Year 12 Graduation Evening, Celebration of Excellence as well as the major performance events of the College. 8.0 Living with a Homestay Family

Trinity Lutheran College uses the company, StudyMatch, as its host family provider for long term students attending the college. The behaviour and expectations of both the host family and the host student as noted by StudyMatch are outlined in the next sections.

8.1 Host family expectations

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR HOSTS

Homestay hosts are expected to:

- Develop positive relationships with homestay students which are based on mutual trust and communication.
- Acknowledge the uniqueness of each homestay student and the levels of each homestay student's strength and weakness.
- Support and assist homestay students to live comfortably within a foreign environment.
- Respect the homestay student's right to privacy while realising that privacy does not equate to isolation.
- Acknowledge the significance of culture, customs, language and beliefs in the life of their Homestay student and accommodate appropriately for these within the family's life.
- Assist, support and nurture where needed or requested, but keeping in mind that a desire to please may be interpreted as interfering by the homestay student.
- Ensure the health and safety of the Homestay student at all times.

To achieve this desired outcome the family will:

- Provide a safe environment which will offer the homestay student positive experiences while living as a member of an Australian family and engaging in positive study habits.
- Provide the homestay student with a private, clean and warm bedroom, good quality, fresh healthy food, laundry facilities and a supportive environment.
- Provide breakfast, lunch and dinner (unless otherwise required).
- Offer help, guidance, support and encouragement with language practice, studies, planning leisure activities and adapting to living in Australia (this may require patience and empathy and a willingness to show the homestay student more than once).
- Provide an orientation within the family home e.g. use of pool area and house facilities and security. Applicable house rules should be explained e.g. what time dinner is, telephone protocols, rules regarding smoking and alcohol, guests visiting, curfews, household tasks and bathroom conduct.
- Offer sincere interest in the cultural background of the homestay student.
- Respect the homestay student's need for privacy and allow them space to be alone.
- Have a duty of care towards the homestay student.
- Only provide single room accommodation. A homestay student is not to share a room with another Homestay student or with a member of the family, unless specifically requested.
- Liaise with the Homestay Manager regarding any concerns or difficulties.
- Notify the Homestay Manager of any change of circumstances in the household.
- Be responsive to the cultural differences and beliefs of the Homestay student by allowing the homestay student to continue familiar cultural practices without criticism.

- Ensure the health and well-being of the Homestay student at all times. This may mean taking the student to the Doctor or Hospital as required or calling the After-Hours Doctor Service (13SICK) to examine the student at the homestay of a night or weekend. The host family may be required to pay the student's medical expenses and be reimbursed by the school or Homestay Provider as soon as possible.
- Advise the Homestay provider of any health issues being experienced by the student.
- Adhere to guidelines set down by the Homestay provider and attend the homestay providers' information sessions and parent/teacher conferences if required.
